

Wireframes / Screen Design used for client meeting

The diagrams included here were created from my wireframes and with my input, however they were put together by my friend with professional Adobe software.

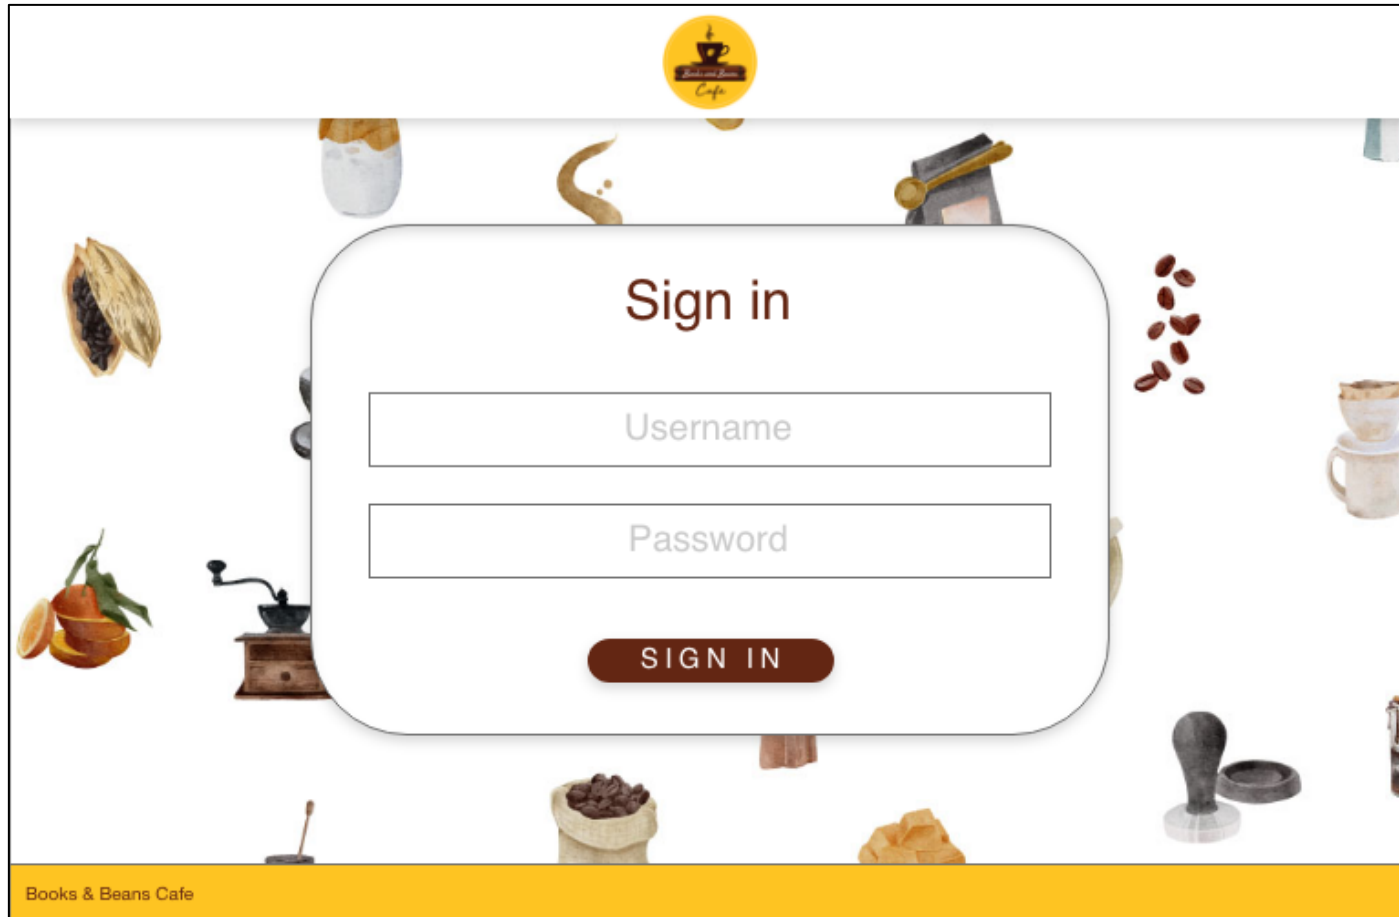

They are included in this file for reference, and because they were used in the client meeting I had on the 15th July with the café manager.

The sign-in page features a central white rounded rectangle with a thin grey border. At the top center of this rectangle is the text "Sign in" in a dark brown font. Below it are two white rectangular input fields with thin grey borders. The first field is labeled "Username" in a light grey font, and the second field is labeled "Password" in a light grey font. At the bottom center of the rectangle is a dark brown button with the text "SIGN IN" in white, uppercase letters. The background is white and decorated with various coffee-related illustrations: a yellow circular logo with a coffee cup and the text "Books & Beans Cafe" at the top center; a coffee grinder, coffee beans, and a coffee cup on the left; and a coffee cup, coffee beans, and a coffee press on the right. A yellow footer bar at the bottom contains the text "Books & Beans Cafe" in a dark brown font.

Notes

- There were changes after the client meeting which have been reflected in the new wireframes included in the readme.md file.
- Once again the images in this PDF were made from my wireframes and design input, but by a friend with access to better (paid) software and a better sense of design. I do not wish to claim undue credit.
- The images are included for reference.

- Thank you
